Shifting sands: Adapting coaching in the climate crisis

The sixth Climate Coaching Action Day takes place on 12th March, 2025

This initiative was launched in 2020 by Coaching at Work, but although we mark it, too, it was always intended to be an invitation for others to embrace, as have organisations, including the Climate Coaching Alliance (CCA), professional coaching and coaching psychology bodies, coach training organisations, including the Academy of Executive Coaching, Positivity Coaching, Centre for Coaching, National Academy of Coaching Psychology, International Academy for Professional Development & affiliated Centres.

Last year Coaching at Work launched on Climate Coaching Action Day Radio Climate Coaching Action, a 24/7 radio station which has interviews with coaches. Visit the station webpage for more information.

In addition to releasing more free podcasts to mark Climate Coaching Action Day, Coaching at Work is hosting a free half-day event as follows:

09:30 Welcome and official Climate Coaching Action Day opening session with Liz Hall

10:00-11:30 Coaching in the polycrisis, a workshop with John Gray & Chantal Burns

11:30-11:50 Break

11:50-13:20 Embodied adaptive coaching, an enquiry and workshop with Liz Hall & Jane Brendgen

13:20-13:30 Close
